Faced Heavy Fire City Troops Engage Nazis at Leonforte In Wild Night Fight

While no specific reference to the 1st Battalion Legion Edmonton Regiment is made in this story, an official announcement today revealing Canadian units participating in the rout of enemy forces in Sicily, coupled with the identifying of well-known city officers to the action described below, indicates clearly that Rosa Muro's dispatch was exclusively with this famous Edmonton unit.

By ROSS MUNRO

LEONFORTE, Sicily, July 25.—(Delayed)—(CP)—A wild night fight in the jumbled streets of Leonforte and its surrounding hills and the action leading to the capture of Piazza Armerina are highlights in the battle of a Canadian regiment in its exhausting foot-slogging advance through Sicily.

In Leonforte a group including a Colonel was cut off most of the night and morning in stone buildings in the centre of the town, with German tanks and infantry trying to drive them out. They hung on until they were relieved.

I spent a couple of hours with the gallant troops, hearing their story from officers and men trying to rest in the sun on captured German positions.

As the battle for Leonforte warmed up with an artillery barrage last Wednesday (July 21), the regiment was ordered to assault the town. They attacked that night. They got into the streets and met only minor opposition until they were at the central square. Then the Germans who infested the place came to life and machine-gun and tracer bullets and cannon fire streaked down every narrow street.

Five German tanks roared through the streets to try to stop the attack of the Edmonton. The dispatch did not further identify the unit. The Canadians scattered in small groups and there was confused fighting through the town.

The commanding officer with Maj. Bill Cromb, Maj. Bill Bury and Capt. Ed. Brichard, all of Edmonton, and the elements of two companies stuck together in the middle of Leonforte and were surrounded by what they estimated to be two companies of German infantry and those menacing tanks.

Wireless communication was disrupted and they could not send messages to brigade headquarters although they could hear the brigade trying to reach them by wireless. For a while the brigadier thought they had been annihilated but actually they were putting up a superb show without severe casualties.

The Nazi tank crews knew approximately where the Canadians were holding out in the buildings and plastered them with cannon and machine-gun fire. At one stage they fired mortar bombs straight down the streets like a field gun.

They also fired 88 millimetre shells down the dark streets. It was mad street fighting for hours.

The Canadians stuck it out until relief came into the town behind tanks about 11 a.m. Thursday, July 22.

Just before this, however, German infantry began a systematic house clearing on the street where the group was located, throwing grenades into houses. They were about 10 houses away when suddenly they turned and ran. Somebody in the beleaguered party let out a whoop. Canadian tanks and infantry were coming up the other end of the street and the besieged group helped them clean out the town.

One company led by Capt. Pat Tighe made a night assault over the hills to the right of the town after fighting through part of Leonforte.

They cut up towards Asoro where other troops were scaling a cliff. (These other troops, from an eastern Ontario regiment, reached the cliff-top to outflank the Germans in Asoro and played a major part in ousting them from that town clinging to a mountain-side.)

The company cleaned out several machine-gun posts and infiltrated into the enemy lines to a considerable depth. They stayed in the hills overnight and when the rest of the battalion didn't join them they went back again through

Retreat in Confusion

Crack German Troops Marching at Agira

ON THE CANADIAN FRONT IN SICILY, July 25.—(Delayed)—(CP)—The mountain peak town of Agira fell to the Canadians at 3:15 p.m. today (Wednesday) as crack German troops retreated in confusion after a mauling by Canadian artillery, infantry and tanks.

The Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry entered the town at about noon and mopped up pockets of resistance in street fighting. The Seaforth Highlanders carried the Canadian advance to the fringe of the town in heavy fighting during the night and this morning.

(Agira's fall to the Canadian troops was announced at Allied headquarters in North Africa July 25.)

The Royal Edmonton were also in this action preceding the fall of Agira. The German divisions had been ordered to resist to the last and delay the Canadians at Agira.

But the artillery barrages were too heavy and infantry and tank thrusts too tenacious.

FOLDED UP
Agira, folded up. Batches of German prisoners who had arrived in Sicily eight days ago and were veterans of Stalingrad, marched slowly down from the front to prison camps.

More than 300 prisoners were taken in the attack on Agira and nearly 200 Germans killed. Tanks went into the town with the Pals and the whole town was cleared.

Neutrals Must Not Give Asylum To Axis Leaders

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt issued a virtual ultimatum to neutral countries today not to offer asylum to Axis leaders.

He also told a press conference that he does not care with whom the government deals in Italy as long as it is not a definite member of the fascist party. He expressed a willingness to treat for peace when the time comes, with a king, prime minister or even a major of a city.

In a formal statement, the President took cognizance of rumors that "Mussolini and members of his fascist government" were attempting to flee to neutral countries.

Axis Agent radio said rumors were current in Istanbul that German troops were about to occupy Hungary. The Moscow radio reported that the Hungarian cabinet had dissolved. The German declaration of the Hungarian National party, said anti-soviet demonstrations had occurred in Budapest.

Stockholm dispatches said the Germans had made four offers of aid for Hungarian troops as well as Bulgars to take over from the Hungarians but both small nations were facing so many difficulties, especially in Bulgaria, that there was a question whether the demand could or would be met.

Inspection of Northern, Edmonton City Projects

Completing a tour of inspection of northern projects, T. D. Pattullo, former Liberal premier of British Columbia and member of the B.C. Legislature for Prince Rupert, arrived in Edmonton early Friday morning to inspect development here.

Mr. Pattullo is the oldest sitting member in the legislature, having served continuously for 27 years. He was first elected in 1916 and was minister of lands in the Brewster government of 1916, and was subsequently a member of the cabinet after the formation of the Conservative government.

After the general election of 1921, when the Liberals won 22 members elected failed to have a majority over all other parties, he refused to form a coalition government with the B.C. Conservatives.

A liberal convention, by a very small majority, suggested the idea of a coalition government, but Mr. Pattullo, while present to do so, declined to accept the premiership of a coalition government.

He declined to comment on British Columbia politics, saying that a press conference could be held on Canadian problems. Continued on Page 2, Col. 8

High Prices in U.S. Blamed For Increases Here

CALGARY, July 30.—(CP)—Sky high prices prevailing in the United States, where there are no controls, are blamed by J. G. West, of British Columbia Tree Fruits, Ltd., in Kelowna, in an interview here today, for the great increase in the price of fruits and vegetables on local markets this year.

Mr. West was in Calgary today on his way to Ottawa.

He considers that the freeing of control by the Dominion government at this time is the best solution of the problem. It was the only cause that could be taken, he said.

Mr. West could say no way that a price ceiling could be placed on Canadian products. Continued on Page 2, Col. 8

Italian Peace Feelers, Deadline to Badoglio Are Believed Discussed

By WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, July 30.—The British war cabinet met in two extraordinary sessions today, for an unannounced purpose but possibly to discuss an Italian peace feeler or to set a deadline for a reply to Allied terms from Marshal Pietro Badoglio.

The meetings, which lasted for some time, came less than 24 hours after Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander in the central Mediterranean, broadcast to Italy an offer to arrange an immediate and honorable peace encompassing "mild and beneficent" occupation and the return of Italian prisoners to their homeland.

In the House of Commons, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said the government's position regarding Italy was "precisely as defined" previously by Prime Minister Winston Churchill. But in connection with the government's refusal to hold a general war debate at present Mr. Eden said:

House May Be Recalled

Should there be some marked change in the situation—and week-end assessments present a changed situation in Europe—the government would of course reconsider their attitude. The government's desire will be to carry the house along in every stage of this business. If necessary we shall ask the house to come back from holiday.

Mr. Eden said the government opposed Gen. Eisenhower's message to the Italians.

European dispatches, meantime, told of spreading riots in Italy and the protective arrests of 5,000 officials and prominent members of the Fascist party. Swiss dispatches reported that disorders, especially at Milan, were strongly Communist in character and said many demonstrators carried Red flags, sang the Internationale and shouted for peace.

Despite lack of official confirmation, there were strong indications that the cabinet session was linked closely to the Italian situation.

If the meeting were not concerned with a formal Italian offer to make peace, informed sources believed, it at least may have considered an initial Italian peace offer, possibly submitted by a third party.

The ministers also may have laid down a formal time limit for dealing with the Italian situation, or discussed the new Italian government, after which all bids could be rejected.

The cabinet meeting was considered a major step in the direction of a new peace, with most members being

Advances Against Wheat Deliveries

OTTAWA, July 30.—(CP)—The government is prepared to help in "any situation" or "in case of emergency" against advances in prices of wheat and other foodstuffs.

Finance Minister Mackenzie King said in a brief statement that details of the plan now are being worked out and they will be made public as soon as possible.

He said the government is proceeding with a view to the establishment of a system of advances to farmers under 1943-44 quotas, which is held on farms because of excessive consumption, it was announced today.

Second-Hand Tires, Tubes Are Rationed

OTTAWA, July 30.—(CP)—Effective midnight tonight, used tires and tubes may be purchased only by a tire ration permit similar to that required for new tires. Munitions Minister Howie Ferguson announced today in a news conference that rationing of used tires and tubes was being put into effect as well as those on the road.

Under a previous order, used tires and tubes could be purchased merely by filling out a certificate of necessity.

The new order sets up three classes of eligible tire buyers and rules out all other vehicle owners as ineligible to purchase any usable tire or retreading service. The classes are "A," "B" and "C."

PURPOSE OF ORDER
The order does three things:
1. Revises the list of eligible vehicles. For instance, it raises the rating of certain dentists, opticians and rural school teachers, and allows tire-buying privileges to farmers who use a truck, propeller for base motor, and so on. Owners of moving vans, chain store supervisors, rural auctioneers, proprietors of trucks delivering newspapers to dealers, and certain others.

2. Allows the retreading of tires. Tires in class "C," including farmers, dentists, opticians, undertakers, commercial travellers and others.

3. Re-defines the term "authorized dealer" and thus prevents anyone from selling tires or tubes if he did not sell at least 75 per cent of his purchases of tires and tubes to the public in the year ended Oct. 31, 1941.

4. Compels every authorized dealer to retain turn-in forms for 30 days to allow for possible government inspection.

5. Provides that, except by permit or by legal sales, dealers, manufacturers, or by sale, shall not exchange or sell, or allow to be exchanged, or otherwise dispose of, any tire or tube, and thus prohibits any tire or tube to be sold to anyone other than a person who has a permit to use it.

The new order rescinds all previous tire orders and regulations and establishes a revised schedule of prices on used tires.

For instance, the maximum price for a 16-inch tire, 16.5 inches in diameter, may be sold for not more than $10.80. The maximum price on the same tire with a usable condition, now may be sold for not more than $10.80. Italian Troops Revolt at Milan: Refuse to Fire on Demonstrators BERNE, July 30.—(AP)—Italian troops have revolted at Milan, refusing to obey orders to fire upon demonstrators who swept the streets by the thousands, shouting demands for peace.

Premier Pietro Badoglio visited the Milan military commander, Gen. Canale, and ordered Gen. Canale to order the troops to fire.

These and other sharp measures were being taken by Badoglio, seeking to quell the disorder and prevent the demonstration of the troops.

But talk of an armistice persisted. The Italian government, it was said, was not prepared to accept such a proposal.

Pioneer Leduc Family Reunion Held on Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart W. Shinkel, two of the oldest residents of Leduc district, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary July 28. All four sons and two daughters of the couple, together with many of their children, were present to enjoy the first reunion of more than twenty years.

The Shinkels' son, George, and his wife, have just returned from Cape Town, South Africa, where he has served as head of a missionary college for many years. A daughter, Virginia, who recently won the overseas scholarship of the London School of Economics, accompanied them to America for advanced study, and was also present.

Cecil W. Shinkel, president of the Leduc district, was present, with his wife, both former students of the Canadian Junior college, Leduc.

The eldest daughter, Mrs. R. C. Sharmen, and her husband, attended from Medicine Hat. They spent many years as missionaries in Africa and recently returned to work in Canada. Other members of the immediate family were R. S. Shinkel and Mrs. Mildred Shinkel, who have lived at the homestead ever since the family came from Eastern Canada in 1900.

Harold Shinkel, the youngest member of the family, and his wife, attended from Taber. The Rev. R. A. Hubley, of Edmonton, brother of Mrs. Shinkel, also was present, accompanied by his wife. They were missionaries in India for many years.

The family enjoys the distinction of never having had a death in the family, either of children or grandchildren. Mr. Shinkel, who will be an octogenarian in a few days, is still hale and hearty. Mrs. Shinkel, too, carries on her regular duties.

News Sicily Town Taken by Canucks Delayed For Week

LONDON, July 30.—(CP)—For reasons best known to the Allied high command the announcement of the Canadian capture of Leonforte in Sicily was delayed a week.

Yesterday's communique from Allied headquarters in North Africa announced the capture of the mountain town but did not give the date. However, dispatches from Rome, Munich, Canadian Press correspondents, disclosed Leonforte fell July 22, about the time the Americans were entering the city of Palermo, capital of Sicily.

Quick as the reaction for the delay in the announcement, London sources said they did not know "but they must have been good."

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Anything can happen to a bridge game. I never really believed it until I saw today's hand played. Would you think it possible for North to make the contract of four hearts? Well, he did!

The opening spade lead was ruffed, and declarer then cashed his ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond. A small spade was led from dummy, which declarer ruffed. Now a trump was led and West won with the queen.

The opening spade lead was ruffed, and declarer then cashed his ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond. A small spade was led from dummy, which declarer ruffed. Now a trump was led and West won with the queen.

Another trump was led, the last trump for everybody. East had two, and once again he led into the ace-queen of clubs, and of course dummy's aces were all gone. Yet, anything can happen in a bridge game when a man will allow himself to be outplayed three times in a row.

Nazis Sent Reeling Back
In First Big Engagement
With Canadians at Enna

How Canadian Force can prevent the Axis

The following dispatch from the Battle of Enna, Sicily, July 29, 1941, was received from the Canadian Forces in Italy.

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE CANADIANS IN CENTRAL SICILY, July 29.—(Delivered.)—The first real action between Canadian and German troops in Sicily has resulted in victory for the Canadians. On this battlefront around Enna the Canadians have given the German panzer grenadiers a bashing and sent them reeling back.

Crops Continue
To Deteriorate
In West Areas

WINNIPEG, July 30.—Crop deterioration has increased over large tracts of the prairie provinces this past week as temperatures were high and rainfall scarce, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Small quantities of rain fell in the prairie provinces, but the weather was generally hot and dry. The crops are in poor condition in many areas, and the situation is becoming more serious.

FLAX YIELD LOWER

Flax crops in the prairie provinces are expected to be lower than last year due to the hot and dry weather. The yield is expected to be about 75 per cent of the normal.

MOISTURE REQUIRED

Moisture is needed for the crops to mature. The weather is expected to be hot and dry for some time, and the crops are in poor condition.

Novel, colorful and most important of all, patriotic is the war-stamp table centerpiece devised by Mrs. Henry Morgenstern, Jr., for a recent luncheon. It is an arrangement of "flowers" which are war savings stamps wrapped in cellophane. Modern hostesses have discovered, too, that little "posies" of war savings stamps make welcome and inexpensive favors for party dinners.

Nova Scotia's $12,000,000 Base Trains Fighting Seamen

Covering 800 acres on the shores of Annapolis basin in Nova Scotia, a $12,000,000 naval training station has been erected by the Royal Canadian Navy. It will be one of the most modern and efficient of its kind in the world. It will take semi-trained ratings from basic training establishments and rapidly turn out practical seamen and ratings with sea experience, able to operate and maintain complicated naval equipment. For new entries who have volunteered for naval service, mail time is eagerly awaited. Two of the establishment's 900 Wrens (upper left) sort parcels from home. High on a rooftop, above columns of marching men (upper right), Sig. T. Operator George Moreau of Winnipeg practices visual signalling.

Pin-Up in Person

Pick of the pin-up girls is starlet Anne Gwynne, who not only sends her pictures to service men, but poses for them as well. Here a happy sailor gets a personnal pin-up pose at Hollywood USO.

One-Man Fortress

This pint-sized German revolving pillbox is further evidence of Hitler's jitter over expected Allied invasion. Emplaced in street of European coastal town, concrete-protected heavy calibre gun would sweep landing parties with shells—provided it wasn't blasted first.

Anti-Axis Action in the North Atlantic

It's bye, bye U-boat in the North Atlantic when a destroyer turns loose the depth charges—a big factor in the falling off of convoy losses. Here a gunner hoists the "ashcan" to rack; then it is fired and explodes in a geyser of spray.

They're Jumping to Get at the Japs

These are the troops who'll shoulder a big share of the fighting when time comes to push the Jap out of occupied areas in the Far East. With oriental war cries on their lips, infantrymen of the Chinese Expeditionary Force hurdle a wall in the obstacle course at American training centre in India. They carry bolt-action rifles.

Sea Shepherd and Its Flock

Against a radiant backdrop a United Nations convoy moves across Atlantic under vigilant protection of a Navy blimp.

Italian Prisoners Waded Out to Allied Landing Barges

Italian prisoners are shown above as they waded out to the landing barges which will transfer them to North African prison camps. These prisoners were captured near Gela, Sicily, last Sunday. An estimated 12,000 Axis prisoners have been captured in the invasion of Sicily so far, and a number of these have already been transferred to North Africa.
